WEYLER MAY RESIGN

In Consequence of Resignation of Senor Porrua.

The Civil Governor of Havana and Western Cuba Bound to Retire

Weyler Believes Porrua's Presence Is Necessary at This Time.

Havana, April 6 It is understood that Senor Jose Porrua, civil governor of Havana and western Cuba, has tendered his resignation by cable to Premier Canovas.

Capt Gen Weyler is said to oppose the resignation because he considers Senor Porrua's presence in the island expedient for the time. Senor Porrua, however, is evidently resolved, and it is not impossible that the affair may bring about Weyler's own resignation.

Senor Porrua will sail for Spain on the 20th of April. He gives up office cheerfully, he says, because it will bring an end of compromises [illegible]

Weyler on the Move

Havana, April 6 Captain General Weyler left Cienfuegos, province of Santa Clara, yesterday, on board the steamer Concepcion and has since passed by the ports of Trinidad and Tunas in the same province. He is believed to be on his way to Jucaro, the port in Puerto Principe which is the southern extremity of the Moron Jucaro military line.

THE STOCK MARKET.

Languid Feeling and an Attack of Souring on Tuesday

New York, April 6 Interest in selling stocks was very languid on the Stock Exchange today and the market was apparently afflicted with an attack of souring. The fluctuations in the main were very narrow. Comparatively large transactions in New Jersey Central were largely due to rather abstruse calculations as to the proper level of the price for the new four per cent dividend basis as compared with other four per cent stock. The stock lingered all day over a range of 1¼ per cent and showing a net loss of a fraction on the day. The other coalers were affected in sympathy, Lackawanna losing 1½ on the day. Delaware & Hudson on the other hand gained a net fraction.

The trading in sugar was apparently affected by conflicting rumors of what inside interests were doing with their holdings. Leather Pfd was quite a feature in the dealings and showed a rather marked decline of 1¼, recovering about the loss. There was more or less weakness manifest in all the specialties. The railway list showed remarkable firmness, especially the grangers. The fluctuations in this group were confined to a very narrow range. St Paul long held steady at 7 through a succession of sales before the stock receded. Burlington was almost equally steady on large transactions.

The Vanderbilt and Gould stocks were comparatively neglected. The railways generally, however, showed fractional net gains. The general market also stiffened somewhat in the final dealings and closed steady.

Railway and miscellaneous mortgages held firm on moderate dealings. The undertone was firm but some few noteworthy declines were registered in the inactive shares. Governments were mostly active.

FURTHER CUBAN TALK.

Another Acrimonious Discussion in the Senate.

Sharp Colloquy Between Mr. Morgan, of Alabama, and Mr. Hale

Cuban Resolution Displaced on the Calendar—Talk on Bankruptcy.

Washington, April 6 Much bad blood was developed in the Senate today over the Cuban question and there were numerous stormy passages and acrimonious personal charges. Early in the day Mr Morgan of Alabama, called up his resolution declaring that a state of war exists in Cuba and recognizing both parties as belligerents. He spoke for some time in a dispassionate manner on the resolution but was aroused by Mr Hale of Maine to a series of sharp retorts. It led to the declaration by Mr Morgan that instead of sending a lawyer to Cuba to investigate the case of Dr Ruiz as was contemplated, the administration would do well to send a warship to Havana and demand redress.

At another point Mr Hale questioned Mr Morgan's statement that Cuban prisons were stuffed with American prisoners, declaring that the information reaching him (Mr Hale) showed that no such condition existed. Mr Morgan again asked where this information came from and then boldly asserted that he knew where it came from and the world knew where it came from, as the Senator from Maine had no doubt the fact that he was in communication with the Spanish authorities.

Mr Hale indignantly denied that his information came from Spanish sources and said it was furnished in every item by American citizens.

The Morgan resolution lost its place and went to the calendar but Mr Morgan will continue his speech tomorrow and has given notice of a motion to proceed with the Cuban resolution to final vote.

Most of the day was given to the bankruptcy bill, Mr Stewart of Nevada speaking in opposition. The discussion drifted to the financial question, Mr Chandler and Mr Stewart having an amusing discussion on bimetallism. During the day Mr Earle (Dem S C) introduced a resolution for the immediate reorganization of Senate committees and the filling of all vacancies. The resolution went over until to-morrow.

The Senate in Doubt

Washington, April 6 Minister Hatch of Hawaii and Mr Thurston, the special representative from that country, were visitors in the diplomatic gallery of the Senate to-day.

Quite a flurry was occasioned by a resolution from the new Senator from South Carolina Mr Earle, providing that at a stated hour to-morrow the Senate shall proceed to reorganize the committees and fill all vacancies there on. The resolution went over until to-morrow.

The Cuban question again came up on Mr Morgan's resolution. He did not wish to occasion a ferment in the United States even though the hearts of the American people are full on this subject.

Mr Morgan referred to the death of Dr Ruiz and commented on the reported purpose of the administration to send a lawyer to Havana to investigate. Instead of hunting out a lawyer to go down to Havana declared the Senator, "our authorities might well send a ship of war to Havana with a commission on board to say to Spain, if that man has been murdered you must punish the guilty one, and on the part of his family demand indemnity."

"Do I understand," queried Mr Hale (Rep, Maine) that the Senator objects to sending to Cuba an agent—be he lawyer or not—to establish the facts?"

"As an American," responded Mr Morgan, "I would regret to see a lawyer go there, but if I were a British subject I would expect to see a ship of war as well as a lawyer go there."

"Then the Senator would send a ship of war before the lawyer to establish the fact," pursued Mr Hale.

"I would send both the ship of war and the lawyer," answered Mr Morgan, and then he added amid laughter "But I would not have much use for the lawyer. What we need," exclaimed Mr Morgan, "is action, resolution, determination, purpose, conclusion, that shall protect the people against these outrages. And one exhibition of that determination in the island of Cuba would do more good than all the law suits ever brought."

He hoped that action would not be retarded by the attitude of the Senator from Maine (Mr Hale). The Cubans are not conducting a "fashionable fight."

Mr Morgan argued that the recognition of the belligerency of the Cubans could not be construed as a hostile act against Spain. The belligerency of the confederate states had been recognized by Great Britain and Spain but the United States never construed this as a hostile act. Spain's recognition of the confederacy was before the battle of Manassas, and before the confederate states had shown their ability to resist the Federal government.

Mr Morgan referred to Spanish prisons being stuffed with American prisoners. This brought on another sharp exchange with Mr Hale.

"What evidence has the Senator (Mr Morgan)," asked Mr Hale, "that the prisons of Cuba are filled with American citizens? I do not believe that assertion."

"I will answer," responded Mr Morgan, "by asking a question. I would like to know on what authority the Senator from Maine predicts his belief that my statement is not true? Who gave him this information? Where does it come from?"

Mr Hale stated that he was not called upon to prove a negative. It was for Mr Morgan to establish the affirmative by records from the State Department or from any other authentic sources.

In sarcastic tones Mr Morgan replied to Mr Hale's solicitude for his Spanish friends and to his delicacy over any reference to Spanish atrocity, to the career of the Duke of Alva or Gen Weyler, or Balmaceda, some of their acts being characterized by Secretary Fish as a shock to humanity. Mr Morgan said he regretted to shock the idea of the Senator from Maine that Spaniards were the most innocent people in the world. What evidence was there that Americans had been slaughtered?

Mr Hale answered that the Alabama Senator would not be able to escape from this question by talking of Armenia and Abyssinia and the Duke of Alva. He wanted a reply as to the authority for the assertion that Spanish prisons were stuffed with Americans.

"My information is just the reverse," proceeded Mr. Hale. It is to the effect that within the last six months, particularly within the last six weeks, every case in which our authorities have intervened for the release of a citizen has been responded to in a friendly tone, and in nearly every case, their release has occurred."

Mr Hale added that his attitude was in no sense due to any friendship for Spain. He cared nothing about that. He sought only to have the diplomatic usage of one hundred years maintained—with calmness and not in an inflammatory spirit.

Mr Morgan responded that the authority was ample for the statement that twenty people had been stuffed into a room 10 by 7 feet in dimensions. Perhaps the Senator from Maine would accept that. He (Mr. Morgan) did not believe the Senator was capable of believing anything reflecting on one of those saintly angels of Spain. Mr Morgan said the Maine Senator had not answered the question as to his authority. Then Mr Morgan added, "But I know who it is. The world knows who it is! The Senator cannot conceal the fact that he is in communication with the Spanish authorities."

"Not one single item of this information has come from the Spanish authorities," declared [illegible]

his information had come and from no others. The Alabama Senator would not succeed in inflaming the case by these assertions.

At this point right of way was given to the bankruptcy bill, it having been arranged that Mr Morgan should go on tomorrow.

Mr Hale insisted however, that the Cuban resolution should be displaced and go to the calendar, although he made no objection to Mr Morgan's speaking tomorrow.

"Then I give notice," concluded Mr Morgan, "that when I get the floor I will move to proceed to a conclusion with this Cuban resolution and let Mr McKinley deal with it."

Mr Stewart (Pop, Nev) took the floor to speak on the bankruptcy bill.

Mr Stewart spoke of the baneful influence of the gold trust in producing rations of bankrupts.

In reply Mr Hoar referred to Mr Stewart's financial remarks as a "Vesuvius, Mount Aetna, Chimborazo and Popocatepetl eruption."

The discussion then branched off to the question of bimetallism.

Mr Chandler asserted that Mr Stewart and all the "Bryanites" were in fact opposed to bimetallism and in favor of silver monometallism.

Mr Stewart responded with a criticism of those who were ready to bow to the dominion of the power of Europe and abandon their Americanism.

Mr Cockrell of Missouri added his protest against Mr Chandler's statement.

At 5 o'clock the Senate went into executive session and soon after adjourned.

Senate Will Not Fill Committees Now

The Senate Republican caucus committee appointed to consider the question of filling the Senate committee vacancies held its first meeting today. The committee practically reached the conclusion that it is not advisable to make an effort to fill the committees and that the matter should be postponed until after the passage of the tariff bill.

The convention was concluded this evening. There were about 60 delegates present.

Infanticide and Suicide

Derby, Ct, April 6 Mrs John Lang aged 32 hung herself at her home this afternoon during a fit of melancholia and likewise probably murdered her 16 months child by striking it on the head with some blunt instrument.

When discovered about seven tonight the woman had evidently been dead a few hours and the baby was unconscious. Medical Examiner Beardsley has no hopes of its recovery from the blow. The suicide was committed by tieing the noose to a hook in the ceiling from which a bird cage had been hanging.

Mr Lang is employed as a lacquerer at the Williams Typewriter Factory and the family removed here from Bullardvale Mass about two years ago.

WILD DEMONSTRATIONS.

The Anniversary of Greek Independence Celebrated.

The Populace Clamor Vigorously for War, Cheering Wildly for It

War with Turkey or Uprising on Macedonian Frontier Certain.

London, April 6 In the House of Commons today the Government leader, Mr A J Balfour First Lord of the Treasury replying to the question put yesterday by Sir William V Harcourt, the opposition leader, as to whether the Government would give a day to discuss his (Sir William's) motion for an address to Her Majesty praying that the forces of the Crown be not employed against Greece or Crete, said that as there was no word in the motion expressly condemning anything the Government had done or announced its intention of doing he was forced to the conclusion that Sir William Harcourt's object was not to raise a direct issue and that it would be in the interest of public business to give the day suggested. (Loud cheers from the Conservatives)

Sir Wm Harcourt then said that Mr Balfour appeared to have entirely misconstrued the intention of the motion. While he the speaker could not describe the motion as a vote of censure he explained that there has been such a thing as a vote of want of confidence in what the government anticipated as likely to be what it would do. The motion he continued asks the crown not to allow its forces to be employed against the Cretans and if carried it would be a restraint upon the government's action if it proposes to so employ the forces of the crown. Further it was the duty of the opposition to record its view of the present situation so far as the information given by the government is concerned and he added:

"We hold there is no justification for the employment of the crown forces against Greece and the Cretans and we challenge the government's policy on that point." (Loud opposition cheers)

Continuing, the leader said "It is necessary to do this immediately because after the Easter recess we may find the country embarked in war with Greece without any direction having been given to parliament of the objects of the war. From this point of view this is a motion of want of confidence." (Loud cheers)

Mr Balfour pointed out that the terms of the motion were studiously ambiguous he said:

"We have stated explicitly to the House and by its action have shown we are prepared to use the forces of the Crown to resist certain action of the insurgents of Crete and we have announced the objects for which we are prepared to blockade Greece as the honorable member (Sir William Harcourt) did upon a previous occasion. (Cheers) The honorable member needs only to modify his resolution so as to condemn one or the other of these acts, the first of which we are actually doing at the present moment, and the second, which we have announced our intention of doing in certain contingencies, and a direct issue will be raised by the parties in the House. Unless the honorable member is prepared to thus modify his motion there is no other course open than the one I have adopted." (Cheers)

Prince of Montenegro Alarmed

London April 6 A special despatch from Rome says the Prince of Montenegro, owing to the gravity of the situation, has started suddenly on his return to Montenegro. It is understood, he believes in the event of an outbreak on the frontier, that the war will extend to Albania and Montenegro and wishes to be in a position to occupy North Albania as far south as the river Drin including the town of Scutari.

Celebration at Athens

Athens, April 6 The entire city is decorated with flags but here also there is a difference from previous years, because not a single foreign flag except the one over the foreign legations is flying.

The celebration commenced with the te deum at the Cathedral. The route from the palace to the Cathedral was lined with the troops of the garrison and the streets were densely crowded.

There was an exciting incident while the procession was on its way to the Cathedral. The horses of the carriage occupied by the Crown Princess became alarmed, bolted and the vehicle was overturned.

The people rushed to the spot from all sides and raised the carriage. The princess however was not hurt. She soon entered the King's carriage and proceeded to the cathedral.

The thanksgiving service was attended by all members of the diplomatic corps.

When the cortege reached the cathedral there were terrific shouts of "Long live war," "Long live Crete" and "Long live the King."

There was another popular demonstration in front of the University. Large numbers of Greek flags were displayed and wreaths were deposited on the statues of the heroes of Greece independence.

Patriotic speeches were made, the warlike sentiments were loudly applauded and the speakers received ovations.

All the legations excepting those of Turkey, Germany and Austria were decorated with flags and on the French and Russian legations the Greek floated side by side with the national flags of France and Russia.

During the afternoon a mass meeting was held to protest against the action of the powers and to endorse the steps taken by the Greek government.

Later, a delegation from this meeting, accompanied by a crowd of thousands of those who took part in the demonstration presented a copy of the resolutions to the King at the palace crying "Long live war."

This evening every one in the city is parading and the scene is one of extraordinary animation. There are illuminations everywhere and all on sides are to be heard cheers for war for the King and for Crete.

Great Demonstration in Athens

Athens April 6—9 p m A vast concourse of people still remains in front of the Royal Palace, calling upon King George to show himself. Considerable alarm was caused by the firing of several shots in the very centre of the crowd. Immediately after this a cordon of troops was drawn around the palace.

Thousands are now listening to one of the most popular and effective Greek orators, who is speaking in Constitution square in favor of war. There is great excitement over the news that a blockade of the Piraeus is imminent, but there are no disturbances. In the crowd are thousands of women and children.

Admiral Canevaro Wants to Resign

Canea, April 6 Admiral Canevaro has asked the Italian government to relieve him of his command and the Marquis di Rudini has replied that in the event of a blockade of the Greek ports the admiral's request will be granted.

Note From Foreign Powers.

Athens, April 6 Each of the foreign representatives has handed to M Skouzes, Greek minister of foreign affairs, the following note:

"The undersigned, in accordance with instructions from his government has the honor to announce that in case of armed conflict on the Greco-Turkish frontier all responsibility will rest with the aggressors. He is also instructed to say that whatever results may arise from such a conflict the powers are firmly resolved to maintain the general peace, and have decided not to allow the aggressor in any event to reap the slightest benefit from his action."

The Ambassadors at Constantinople have presented to the Sublime Porte a note similar to the foregoing.

Wild [illegible]

New York, April [illegible] a despatch to the [illegible]

Greek independence evoked wild demonstrations from the troops here today.

So intense has been the feeling that a council of officers with the Prince was held tonight at which they insisted on an immediate declaration of war.

It seems tonight safe to say that either war with Turkey or a local uprising on the Macedonian frontier is certain.

FOREIGN NEWS.

Transvaal Raid Inquiry

London April 6 The parliamentary committee inquiring into the Transvaal raid was again in session today. A private discussion resulted in the reading of the considered correspondence between John Willoughby, the military leader of the raid, and Sir Revers Buller, the adjutant general of the forces, the former having declared that he acted under orders as Matabele administrator in the bona fide belief that he had Imperial authority to do so.

Sir Revers Buller, replying, said that the war office had duly considered the pleas of John Willoughby, who ought to have known that an order to attack a friendly state was ultra vires besides he had disregarded the order of the High commissioner to retire from the Transvaal territory.

Sir Wm Vernon Harcourt cross examined Sir John Willoughby with the view of eliciting his reasons for believing he had Imperial authority for the raid. The witness however, declined to say anything beyond admitting he had private talks with Dr Jameson on the subject the substance of which he refused to disclose.

This caused Sir Wm Harcourt to exclaim: "Then I must clear the room and settle this question once for all."

After the room had been cleared the committee went into a private discussion.

An hour later the doors were reopened and the chairman informed Sir John Willoughby he must answer the question but he need not repeat Dr Jameson's exact words. Sir John Willoughby still declined to answer the question declaring he was prepared to take the consequences. The chairman again advised the witness to divulge his reason for believing he had Imperial authority for the raid but Sir John Willoughby remained firm.

The committee adjourned until Friday next.

Slavery Abolished

Zanzibar April 6 The Sultan of Zanzibar has issued a decree abolishing slavery.

Expected Guiana Treaty Will be Promptly Ratified

Washington, April 6 Although he has no official advices Minister Andrade expects the boundary arbitration treaty will be ratified by the Venezuelan congress and signed by the President this week.

After its ratification by Venezuela, the British government will formally approve it and then ratifications will be exchanged either at Washington or London.

Dartmouth Athletes

Hanover N H, April 6 The selection of Dartmouth athletes for the relay race with the University of Pennsylvania was made after the time trials to day by Manager Pringle and Captain Bolser. They were as follows: Capt Bolser, Christopher 9, Cellar 91, Crowley 8, Ham 9, Hutchison 100, Temple 97, Thayer 100, Wood, Woodward 99 and Sears 9. The best time over the quarter mile course was 3 second.

Squadron to Visit Portsmouth

Portsmouth N H, April 6 A letter received in this city today from Senator Gallinger states that the latter has received assurance from Secretary Long of the Navy Department that the entire white squadron of thirteen vessels will be ordered to visit this port at some date this coming summer, thus giving the people of New Hampshire their first chance to see the modern navy.

There are 101 classes, which have filled handsomely with one or two exceptions.

Liquor Law Enforcement

Augusta, Me, April 6 The April term of the Superior Court convened today, Judge O G Hall presiding. An interesting feature of to-day's session was an address by Judge Hall to the grand jury regarding the enforcement of the prohibitory law. He stated that he had received complaints that the law is being violated by wholesale in Kennebec county. He clearly outlined the various kinds of violations and strongly impressed upon the jury its duty in the matter of indictments. As the trouble which now exists in Waterville and Hallowell has not yet reached this city, the judge's address has created no little nervousness among the dealers.

His Narrow Escape

Many times Blondin walked across Niagara on the tight rope, he carried a man across on his shoulders, pushed a loaded wheelbarrow, and did all sorts of tricks out there over the roaring foaming current, and did similar feats throughout the country.

While in Chicago at McVicker's Theatre he told an attache of that establishment of an incident connected with his Niagara performance that the attache now an elderly man told recently.

Blondin said: "Ze people at Niagara one time present me a vera beautiful medal of gold set wiz diamond, and when I was carry ze man on my shoulders across Niagara I wear ze medal. One time when we were bout half way cross I think I feel ze medal slip, as ef he was falling to ze waters below. My first impulse was to catch at ze medal, him to save, but I think bettare and say to myself, bettare let ze medal go zan ze man. Zat man nevare know, to zese day, how near he come to go to ze bottom. But after all, ze medal not slip, and him I have yet. Of course I could ze rope have caught and save myself had I lose ze ballance but ze man on my shoulder, he would not have seen his home some more."

Serious Results of a Cold—Cough Was Growing Worse, But Hood's Sarsaparilla Entirely Cured It.

"In the spring of 1894 I took cold and it settled on my lungs. I began to cough and kept growing worse all the time. My husband was paying out a great deal of money for medicine but I continued to grow weaker every day, and in the winter of 1895 I gave up hopes of ever getting better. After this I read of people gaining strength by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla and my husband advised me to try this medicine. Before I had finished the first bottle I saw that I was growing stronger and my cough was looser. After taking two bottles my cough [illegible] better health than [illegible]" Mary E. URIC ACID

THE CHIEF CAUSE OF [illegible]

At Niagara Falls, N. Y.,

THAT WORKS WONDERS.

What J. W. Griffiths, M D Ph. D, M S, F R S L, Has Discovered

In his various publications Dr Griffiths alludes to the cause of old age and rheumatism as brought on by excessive calcareous or lime deposits carried in through the arteries and depositing in the pores and joints, blocking up the blood vessels thus hindering circulation.

This substance gets into the capillaries of the joints and stops the lubricating process that keeps the joints limber. Little particles get into the cells of the stomach of the blood and kidneys and cause every form of indigestion and Bright's disease and this it is that brings on excessive secretions of uric acid.

When the kidneys are healthy they expel the small amount of uric acid the human system generates, and all is well. But when this uric acid is not properly expelled it finds its way into the blood and is lodged with the excessive accumulations of lime mostly in the joints. This acid as well as the lime is insoluble by any of the animal fluids and while the amount of uric acid the system generates daily is insignificant its steady accumulations finally bring on the most painful and persistent rheumatism. The acid is frequently lodged in the great toe joints when the disease is called gout. The joints of the hands are affected, the fingers are stiffened and is frequently swelled or pulled up.

A SOLVENT FOUND.

On Goat Island at Niagara Falls was discovered about six years ago a shrub the leaves and roots of which have wonderful solvent qualities, and is now prepared in tablet form and called the Great Niagara Rheumatic and Kidney Cure.

Nature is the greatest of all chemists and in her laboratories and even deep down in the bowels of the earth displays a profoundness of which man at his best is but a poor imitation and only by accident are the wonderful healing properties supplied by nature usually discovered.

The Great Niagara Rheumatic and Kidney Cure when taken as directed dissolves the uric acid which has accumulated in the joints and the blood, as well as the excess of lime which the system has taken on.

It also reduces the small amount of uric acid generated daily to such a small quantities that nature heals the kidneys and they afterward perform their functions in the right manner. This cure also dissolves stone in the bladder, gall stones and all unnatural accumulations. This great cure has been tried a great many times, and always with the simplest results. It is well known and greatly appreciated right where it was discovered.

Mr William James of the Francis Hook and Eye Co of Niagara Falls, N Y, was a terrible sufferer from inflammatory rheumatism. His last attack having confined him to his bed for the most time. During part of this time his sufferings were so intense that he had to be kept under the influence of opiates and moved upon sheets. Mr James has been more or less afflicted with rheumatism for upwards of 15 years and has tried (using his words) "more than a thousand remedies without success." He was also completely cured by three packages of Niagara Rheumatic and Kidney Cure. He wishes to express his heartfelt gratitude to the proprietors of this great remedy, and most cheerfully recommends it to all his wise afflicted.

Mr George W Rogers the well known conductor of the Lehigh Valley R R has been a great sufferer for years with sciatica and inflammatory rheumatism. During the spring and summer of 1894 he was confined to the General hospital of Buffalo for about six months without success. He was also completely cured by the use of four packages of the remedy.

The Great Niagara Rheumatic and Kidney Cure dissolves all acids and lime formations, keeps the system free from deposits and in consequence you look young, feel young, and all pains and aches disappear.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 7, 1897.

STATE OF MAINE.

A FAST DAY PROCLAMATION.

Recognizing and conforming to a long established custom, with the advice and consent of the Executive Council, I do hereby designate and appoint THURSDAY, the twenty-second day of April next, to be observed by all the people of our State as a day of

FASTING AND PRAYER.

This ancient custom comes to us consecrated by the observance of our fathers for many generations. In deference to it as a hallowed memory of the past, I earnestly recommend that all good citizens should that day abstain from their usual vocations, and having assembled in their churches and around their firesides, reverently approach the presence of Him who guides, governs and controls the destinies of all nations, asking that peace, plenty, prosperity and happiness may continue throughout our borders.

Given at the Executive Chamber, in Augusta, this twenty-fourth day of March, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and ninety-seven, and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and twenty-first.

LLEWELLYN POWERS.

By the Governor,
BYRON BOYD,
Secretary of State.

Calais Republicans again made a clean sweep in the city election Monday. Dr. Swan was elected Mayor almost unanimously, while every candidate on the Republican ward tickets was elected without opposition. Dr. Swan is one of the leading citizens of Calais and will make an excellent Chief Magistrate. That the people appreciate this fact is fully demonstrated by the vote.

The election in Rhode Island will take place today, when a Governor, State officers and a full Legislature will be chosen. Rhode Island is the only State which elects a Governor annually in the spring and holds two sessions of the Legislature each year. The distinguishing features of this week's election will be the smallness of the vote cast and the size of the Republican majority. No campaign has been made by any party, the success of the Republican ticket being considered sure. The Democrats nominated a ticket ignoring national questions in their platform, and then retired from the field. The total vote cast for Governor in Rhode Island in April, 1896, was 50,485, and the Republican plurality was 11,171. Both the total vote and the Republican plurality will be smaller than last year.

A hearing will be held this evening on the proposition to alternate the members of the day and night police force. An order to this effect was adopted at a previous meeting, but the suggestion has called forth so much opposition that interested parties are to be heard on the subject. We venture the remark that if the plan is put into operation the very men who urged it will be among the first to ask for its repeal. It has been tried in other places and so far as we know has never been found desirable. Speaking from long experience in night work we unhesitatingly say that the plan is not a practical one. It is not an altogether easy matter for a man to accustom himself to sleeping in the day time and once the habit is fixed it is equally difficult for him to sleep nights. For a man to attempt to work a few weeks by night and then a few weeks by day means that in a short time he will be unfitted for good work either night or day. The proposition is not a feasible one and if put in practice in our judgment it will only be a short time before it will be abandoned.

The New York Herald's Easter edition both as a work of art and as a newspaper has never been equalled in the journalistic field. It was a number in which the Herald may justly take great pride reflecting as it does the possibilities of newspaper work in a model office. The colored illustrations were particularly fine. Some idea of the size of the edition may be inferred from the fact that each number contained ninety-two pages, or forty-six full sheets. These forty-six sheets if placed in a row will be found to measure eighty-six feet, three inches. The whole edition similarly treated would stretch to the enormous distance of 8,219 miles. The extra pages used in the Brooklyn edition would add 85 miles to these figures, bringing the total up to 8,304 miles. The postal distance from New York to San Francisco is 3,250 miles. These sheets of the Herald's Easter edition, laid together, might be made to stretch across the continent from New York to San Francisco and back again, and there would still be 804 miles of the sheets of the Herald to spare.

Chairman Jones, of the Democratic national committee, (free and unlimited silver) has issued an address endorsing the plan of celebrating the 154th birthday of Thomas Jefferson, April 13. It is to be hoped, says the Portland Advertiser, that the orators on this occasion will not overlook among their quotations from the wise words of the author of the Declaration what he said in regard to fixing the coinage ratio of silver and gold. "The proportion between the values of gold and silver," he said, "is a mercantile problem altogether. The proportions established by law have varied in different ages and in different countries. Just principles will lead us to disregard legal proportions altogether, to inquire into the market price of gold in the several countries with which we shall be principally connected in commerce, and to take an average from them." The difference between this and the Chicago platform is as wide as the poles. The ratio is a mercantile problem altogether, said Jefferson. The ratio is a legal affair altogether, says Bryan and his followers. It is probable that the silver orators will choose on Jefferson's birthday to avoid this awkward subject and to address themselves rather to his other views on public questions.

Another Campaign of Misrepresentation.

The Whig has already referred to the announcement made by the New York Reform Club to the effect that said organization proposed to fight the new tariff bill, and would furnish anti-protection ... [illegible] traders has attracted considerable attention. It affords evidence of the misleading character of the matter the club intends to supply, being itself filled with misrepresentation. Here is an extract:

"The proposed (Dingley) tariff appears to be especially designed to help trusts and monopolies. It takes several dollars from the pockets of the people for every one that it turns into our National Treasury. As a whole, it will confer even greater benefits upon privileged industries than did the McKinley bill itself. This partly because many duties are higher and partly because the same duties are prohibitive, now that manufacturers have been compelled by lower duties to improve their machinery and methods to compete with foreign manufacturers. In many cases, though increasing the burden, or taxation, it decreases the income from customs duties. The only important increases expected are from sugar and wool—two articles necessary to health and comfort, which should not be taxed at all in times of peace, or while it is possible to obtain sufficient revenue from other sources. The threat which this tariff bill holds over all our homes, and over the three-fourths of our industries which cannot possibly derive any benefit from protection, makes it incumbent upon this committee to do what it can to oppose such special legislation. Because we know that it will increase the tax burdens of our people we propose to agitate against this bill until it is dead or we have exhausted every means of opposition. We hope to be prepared in a few days to furnish you tariff reform plates, free of charge."

General Grosvenor, a member of the Ways and Means Committee, after reading this letter said: "This emanation comes from certain Free Traders and importers in New York. Free Traders, of course, are disgusted with a protective tariff. This is all right. The Committee on Tariff Reform of the Reform Club is made up very largely of gentlemen who import goods into this country, and they, of course, are exceedingly grieved over specific duties. Were I that sort of importer, I would have as much grief as they have. But the fact is, and the public may as well understand it, that the statement is without foundation in fact, and only a few simple statements would brand the whole document as absolutely false and absolutely misleading. It is only necessary to make one broad, general statement and follow it by a few illustrations to show how unfair, unjust and untruthful this whole assault is.

"The greatest trusts in this country to-day, as the popular understanding is, and I think is correct, are the Sugar Trust and the Standard Oil Trust. Will these gentlemen please answer this question: If the Ways and Means Committee has made a bill and introduced it and secured its passage, especially designed to aid trusts and monopolies, why did it not conform to the suggestions of these two greatest of all the great trusts? And yet the fact is that the two hardest blows struck in this bill, while not aimed at any particular interest, fall heaviest upon the Sugar Trust and the Standard Oil Trust. It may be said that the Standard Oil Company is not a trust, and I do not say that it is, but it has secured to itself, in one way and another, an enormous monopoly, the most secure of the age.

"Now, what have we done in the bill? We have refused to levy duties on sugar upon the principle insisted upon by the Sugar Trust. They, as is well known, favor an ad valorem duty on sugar, doubtless as they have a right to do, though understanding persons know that masked under an ad valorem duty is a concealed differential, and Mr. Dingley gives it as his opinion that if there is superadded one-eighth of a cent direct discrimination or differential, then there is at least a full quarter of a cent included in that sort of tariff.

"The Reform Club of New York favors ad valorem duties. In this they are behind all intelligent people of the world. There is not now a tariff in Europe that does not resort to specific duties in all possible cases, and wherever a specific duty is levied certain importers always cry out against it. It is perfectly well known that the Sugar Trust, or the American Sugar Refining Company, asked for a differential of one-fourth of a cent. This bill gives them but an eighth. So I am correct in saying that no one of the demands of the Sugar Trust was complied with, and the precise reverse of everything they asked was given. This is the same body of men who through the Wilson law seized upon immunities and benefits which have made them enormously rich.

"Now, to come to the monopoly of the Standard Oil. The first time in the history of the legislation of this country for many years we have repealed, so far as the action of the House of Representatives is concerned, the drawback upon tin exported with American products, and this has been done against the protest of every representative of the Standard Oil Company. It has not been done in any spirit of opposition or hostility to that great and successful organization, but as a matter of principle, believing that, now that we are producing such vast quantities of tin in the United States, with a prospect of a greatly increased product, it would be perfectly fair to get rid, step by step, of these drawbacks.

"There are perhaps twenty-five or thirty products of American industry said to be under the control of trusts and combinations. But the requests of these combinations to the committee were utterly ignored. The statement of the circular is utterly false and without foundation in fact."

Congressman Dolliver, discussing the letter, said: "The American people have had as much to do with the tariff views of Thomas G. Shearman and the other gentlemen associated with him in the cause of tariff reform as a reasonable regard for their dependent families will warrant. Therefore, in my judgment, the tariff literature furnished by these apostles of National bankruptcy will make no impression on the public mind, even when furnished on electrotype plates, gratis, express prepaid."

AFFAIRS IN CUBA.

The Proposed Reforms Rejected by the Insurgents.

Desertions from the Spanish Army Continue—Other Cuban News.

New York, April 6.—The Sun's Havana despatch says: Desertions are still very numerous in the Spanish army. At Matanzas a company of 97 men have passed over to the insurgents on account of the scanty and poor food supply and the non-payment of the money due them. The authorities are careful to prevent the news from being printed here, for fear that it may influence the rest of the army to follow the same course. In Santa Clara province the desertions are still more numerous.

By orders from Madrid, Weyler is trying again to induce the insurgents to accept the alleged reforms and has employed for that purpose Senor Marcos Garcia, ex-mayor of the town of Sancti Spiritus. Senor Garcia, notwithstanding the ill success of his former proposals, indirectly made to Gomez by the correspondent of El Liberal, Senor Morote, has again accepted the mission, and has written to the Cubans in a pleading way asking their acceptance of the reforms.

Weyler suggests to the insurgents that after the present plan of reforms has been practically tried in the island, Spain will grant the Cubans more liberal home rule. He holds out the prospect also of a general amnesty including the pardon of all Cubans who are in the revolutionary ranks and all who are under charges before the Spanish tribunals for common offences.

He adds that, in the treaty of capitulation, the insurgents will receive all the military honors of a belligerent army.

It is positively known that, notwithstanding all the semi-official news to the contrary, Gen. Gomez has strongly rejected all these proposals and warned Senor Garcia that if he ever falls into his hands he will be hanged as a traitor. The same attitude is assumed by the Cuban government at Camaguey.

A commission from Gen. Jimenez Castellanos was dismissed by President Cisneros with the answer that, though the Cubans do not like to ill treat official deputations they will be obliged to arrest and try before a drumhead court martial all who may in future enter the Cuban camp with proposals for peace not based on the absolute independence of the island.

AWAITING A PASSENGER.

Thought that the Philadelphia Will Take Special Commissioner to Hawaii.

San Diego, Cal., April 6.—From hints dropped by officers of the United States cruiser Philadelphia, it is now thought that the vessel is awaiting the arrival here of a special commissioner appointed by the President who will go to Hawaii to investigate the condition of affairs there with a view of making a report on the question of annexing the islands to the United States.

Who this commissioner is cannot of course be told, but the one or two officers of the Philadelphia said they were inclined to think that John W. Foster would be the man on account of his intimate knowledge of Hawaii gained on a former visit to the islands and his ability to handle the delicate mission.

Another officer, however, professed to believe that the minister to Hawaii had been appointed by the President and he was going to the islands at once without waiting to be confirmed by the Senate on account of the crisis in affairs there calling for a representative from the United States government skilled in diplomatic matters. The only candidates for the Hawaiian mission who are known to be influential are Rear Admiral Walker, Irving H. Dudley, of this city, and Harold Sewall, of Maine. Dudley is now in Washington working for the mission.

Admiral Beardsley refused to affirm or deny that he had received instructions from Washington outlining the government's policy in case of a revolt by the Japanese in Hawaii.

MORTUARY.

The Oldest Lawyer in New Bedford.

New Bedford, Mass., April 6.—Hon. Edwin L. Barney, the oldest lawyer of this city, died this morning at his residence. Mr. Barney was born in Swansea, Mass., April 1, 1827. He had been a resident of this city for over 50 years. Mr. Barney graduated from Brown university and took the law course at Yale. In 1865 he was a senator in the Massachusetts legislature and in 1870 was appointed by President Grant, United States district attorney for the western district of Texas. Afterwards Mr. Barney was the law partner of Gen. B. F. Butler and when Gen. Butler was governor of this state, he was appointed judge advocate on his staff.

Mr. Barney was city solicitor of New Bedford for four years. He had been in feeble health for some time.

Trying to Unite Democratic Party.

New York, April 6.—A Tribune special from Albany says: The leaders of the gold Democrats of this state and neighboring states have been in active conference for two or three weeks in relation to a proposition for a demonstration by their wing of the Democratic party in New York city soon. The reform club of New York city, which has for its leaders such prominent gold Democrats as Charles S. Fairchild and Everett P. Wheeler intends to give its annual dinner at the Waldorf hotel on the evening of April 24, and it has been suggested that this dinner should be made the occasion of an exchange of views by sound money Democrats of the east and west in regard to their attitude toward the silver wing of the party, which now holds control of the organization in all parts of the United States.

It has further been suggested that a series of conferences to suggest plans for work against the free coinage heresy within the ranks of the Democratic party be held in Chickering Hall.

The plan has been proposed of inviting ex-President Cleveland and all the members of his cabinet to be present at the Reform Club dinner. Senator Gray of Delaware, Senator Caffery of Louisiana, and Senator Lindsay of Kentucky have already accepted invitations to speak at the dinner.

Canadian Bishops and Archbishops to Meet Papal Ablegate.

New York, April 6.—A Sun special from Montreal says: Mgr. Merry Del Val, the papal ablegate, has sent out a summons to every archbishop and bishop in Canada to be present at the episcopal palace in this city on Thursday, April 8. The summons is imperative and the calling of a general council shows that the matters for consideration do not affect the province of Quebec alone, but the whole of Canada.

The government of Ottawa has been endeavoring to make it appear that when the ablegate came to understand that the Manitoba school question is settled, he would confine his inquiries and decisions to disciplining the bishops of Quebec for coercive interference in parliamentary elections.

But the calling in of the prelates from the Atlantic to the Pacific on such short notice is a plain indication that the Manitoba school question only has brought the ablegate to Canada and that whatever policy he means to adopt will have the weight of the whole Catholic opinion of the dominion behind it.

To Foreclose the Union Pacific.

Omaha, Neb., April 6.—John C. Cowen, special counsel for the United States government in the foreclosure suits of the government against the Union Pacific railway, has returned from Washington. He had been in conference with the attorney general and other government officials regarding the foreclosure.

Mr. Cowen said that he saw no obstacle in the way of foreclosure but thought that event would come along as quickly as the necessary legal papers could be issued by the courts.

"It is difficult to tell the exact date," he said, "but the decree will undoubtedly be issued in May. Then it should not be more than a matter of 60 or 90 days after that until the foreclosure is complete."

Pleaded Guilty to Embezzlement.

Kansas City, Mo., April 6.—J. H. Aldrich, for several years cashier and paymaster in this city of the Kansas City, Fort Scott & Memphis railroad, was arrested here yesterday afternoon charged with embezzling $27,000 of the company's money. He says he will plead guilty and throw himself on the mercy of the court.

Aldrich's stealings have been carried on for eight years. The company does not know exactly how much he is short and has only his word that $27,000 is the amount. An expert examination of his books, which is now in progress may, it is stated, swell the total. It is ... [illegible]

MANY QUESTIONS ASKED.

Charges Against Police Commissioner Being Investigated.

Accused of Using His Office to Aid Business Enterprises.

Boston April 6 — Gen Augustus P Martin chairman of Boston's board of police commissioners, this morning faced those persons who headed by Col Roger[illegible] [illegible] accuse him of having more to do with the [illegible] with the [illegible] of mineral water than the [illegible] commissioner should.

Gen Martin is represented by ex-Attorney General A [illegible] Pillsbury and Col Se[illegible] Philip J Doherty H W Chaplin and I B G Davis for counsel. The charges are being heard in the council chamber by Gov Wolcott. [illegible] Gov Crane and Councillors Nathaniel [illegible] and Allen T [illegible] of Oxford. After the governor stated that the hearing was for the purpose of [illegible] to the character and acts of Augustus P Martin on petition of R [illegible] and other mineral water dealers [illegible] the charges were read.

They state that Gen Martin is president of the Pearl Hill Lithia Water Co, which sells mineral water and that the liquor dealers in this city have been [illegible] this mineral water on the [illegible] that it would help them with the police commission. A Mechanical Genius

The problem of finding a practical machine for sanding car tracks automatically, which had been puzzling street railway men [illegible] years has been solved by a twelve-year old boy George H Robertson, the son of J H Robertson, the superintendent of the Third avenue cable road New York.

Young Robertson, who spends nearly all his time when not in school in the car shops at Sixty sixth street and Third avenue, heard his father say a few weeks ago that anyone who would invent a device to make the sand flow freely would make a fortune

This set him to thinking and a few days ago he came to his father with a rough drawing of a drill which at once struck Mr Robertson as eminently practical and which he will immediately apply to all his sand cars

It consists of a toothed wheel placed in the bottom of the hopper and connected by a chain gearing with the axle of the car. When the car is in motion the wheel revolves rapidly and chews up the sand allowing it to flow freely through an aperture in the bottom of the hopper. It is a money saver too, as it enables the car, which formerly required the services of eight men to be run by four men

[illegible] the Young Men's Republican Club of Baltimore which stood by Grant in the national convention of 1880, has expressed a willingness to consider an invitation to attend. The Ancient Order of Hibernians has applied for a place in line and will turn out about ten thousand men

New ideas for the celebration of the day are constantly being proposed. One of the latest is that General Dodge requests everybody who displays flags on the day of the business men's sound money parade last fall to display them all again on April 27. The boards of education of all the districts included in the Greater New York have under consideration various plans for the proper celebration by the school children of April 26 the day before the ceremonies

The 8 000 members of the National Guard of Pennsylvania will, probably, be quartered at the old Guttenburg race track, where there are ample accommodations for a large number of men. A Shylock's Inhuman Action

A case of money lender's rapacity without parallel in Newark, N Y, was brought out by the arrest of Charles Bierman, a pawnbroker, at No 30 Cedar street on charge of [illegible] A warrant was also issued for Constable Jacob Lichtenstein. Bierman was put under $1 000 bail. William D Sisco a lawyer, lives at No 10 Jefferson street. He has six children. His wife's father is Josiah I Gibbs of No 68 Lexington avenue, New York

Sisco occupies a flat and has valuable furniture. About a year ago he needed money badly and borrowed $45 from Bierman, giving a chattel mortgage on part of his furniture as security. He paid, he alleges, all but about $8 [illegible] was willing to pay this sum with interest, but Bierman demanded $[illegible] representing usurious interest and Sisco refused to pay. Mrs Sisco is in delicate health and five of her children are sick

Saturday afternoon Bierman, accompanied by Constable Lichtenstein and some men went to the flat with a truck, entered it and began to remove the furniture. Mrs Sisco protested and pleaded and pointed to her boy lying in a raging fever and to the other sick children. Bierman ordered the men to proceed and the flat was stripped of more than $1 100 worth of furniture including the beds leaving only one straw mattress. While this work was going on Sisco returned and ordered Bierman to desist telling him that he was taking goods not covered by the mortgage, and that he had received no notice of foreclosure. His protest was disregarded

Then Sisco went to the Third Precinct police station and asked for police protection. Two police officers were sent to the house, but were unable to interfere in the case. Sisco then secured a lawyer, but when he returned to the flat it had been stripped. On the straw mattress on the floor lay four sick children, while the fifth lay in its mother's arms. The men had thrown open all the windows of the children and the wind swept through the flat

Sisco then hastened to the police station and denounced the officers for permitting the inhuman outrage, the latter went to consult Prosecutor Crane. On the latter's advice warrants were issued for Bierman and Lichtenstein

"I shall prosecute these heartless sharks," said Sisco. "I fear for the lives of my children from the exposure they have been subjected to. My baby boy has a raging fever and may not live till tomorrow. Only a month ago we buried our eight year old boy

Mayor Seymour heard of the case and expressed the greatest indignation. He said he would see that justice was done in the case

Towers for Electric Lights

When arc lights were first introduced for street lighting there was a very exaggerated idea of their lighting power. A light of 1 000 candle power seemed such a powerful illuminator that the idea was very naturally conceived of placing lamps on the top of tall towers and lighting the whole area of a city. Several municipalities adopted this tower system of lighting of which the best known example is doubtless Detroit. It was at once found however, that a cluster of arc lamps 170 feet or more from the ground might be an excellent plan for lighting the whole of a large area but was a very poor plan for lighting city streets. In the average American city, with long blocks, the streets comprise not more than one-third of the area. Hence with the tower system of lighting 6[illegible] per cent or more of the illuminating power is wasted in lighting up house roofs, back yards and vacant lots

Nearly every city of which we have information that originally adopted the tower system of lighting has abandoned it. It is therefore quite surprising to learn that Des Moines Iowa, proposes to put in a municipal street lighting plant and to use the tower system. What consideration influenced the city authorities to adopt this system, we do not know, but we would strongly urge them to investigate the experience of Detroit and other cities with the tower system of lighting before they construct such a plant in their own city

Useful Indian Lore

"People out West," observed a Kansas Congressman, "have learned a number of things from the Indians, and many of them are of value. Probably the most valuable has been in the matter of cyclones. We have learned that whenever a city or town was built on the site of an old Indian settlement, it has been free from any of the cyclones which have now and then come along in the Western country. How the Indians were observant and smart enough to select sites for settlement which have always escaped cyclones is more than we have been able to learn by study or investigation, but the fact remains that the towns or cities on original Indian settlements are cyclone proof

"These towns which are located thus fortunately use their Indian origin as an advertisement and as a guarantee for settlement. Thus lots in an original Indian settlement town are sold for a higher price and are in greater demand than in towns laid out by white men. It is rather rough on our intelligence but it is [illegible] to [illegible] that it is right. The cyclone insurance companies will insure a policy on houses in an Indian [illegible] [illegible]

A POISON FACTORY

Drugs Enough To Kill The World

Packed away behind the wilderness of gigantic warehouses and tumble-down tenements in a remote suburb of South London says a writer in Answers, is one of the strangest establishments in the world. It is a factory—but what a factory! From morning till night its great chimneys are continuously belching forth clouds of fetid smelling smoke. Occasionally a great column of steam will shoot high into the air not hot, white steam but purple and green and yellow reminding one of some bloated and gigantic serpent. During the hours of darkness its location is betrayed to the most casual observer by the red glare in the sky from its innumerable furnaces

The massive gates leading to this strange establishment are locked and jealously guarded for inside them lurk danger and death to the unwary trespasser. Poisons of such terrific strength as would suffice to send an army of men to eternity in the fraction of a second lie around loose and are handled with as little apparent care as if they were the most harmless substances in the world

As has already been intimated, this factory is a dangerous place to visit. It is not enough for the casual visitor to be careful where he steps and what he touches. He must, in addition, refrain from using his olfactory powers without special permission for there are poisons there which it is death even to smell. One of these is the pure or anhydrous prussic acid—a terrible preparation which is seldom or never made outside a chemical laboratory. The original discoverer of this [illegible] deadliest of all known poisons was stricken [illegible] through accidentally inhaling its fumes and scores of other deaths have happened from the same cause. It is this [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] diluting it with [illegible] per cent of water. Even this [illegible] however it is sufficiently strong to cause almost instant death [illegible] exceedingly minute [illegible]

Next to [illegible] the proprietor of the works in question, who piloted the writer over the factory [illegible] [illegible] year [illegible] tons of [illegible] [illegible] it follows that our output of this chemical alone would have been sufficient to kill 2 500 000 people. Altogether [illegible] the course of each twelvemonth enough deadly poison to depopulate the United Kingdom. This may seem a [illegible] [illegible] but it is nevertheless [illegible] the truth

While we were conversing we [illegible] one of the workrooms where a number of men were engaged round a sort of gigantic witch's cauldron containing over a hundredweight of [illegible] cyanide. It was a picture such as would have delighted the heart of a Rubens or a Titian. The glare reflected from the seething mass of white hot liquid poison. The lurid play of the furnace fires [illegible] ever and anon a phantom figure [illegible] uncanny looking glass [illegible] peering through the thick [illegible] straight into the heart of the horrible mixture

In another room were tons upon tons of the finished product looking to all the world like white crystallized sugar

"I [illegible] enough to eat" I remarked jocularly

"My [illegible]" replied my guide, gravely, "that is one of the dangers we have to guard against. For some inexplicable reason, cyanide of potassium exercises a remarkable fascination over the men engaged in its manufacture. They are haunted by a constant and ever recurring desire to eat it. They are perfectly alive to the fact however that to give way to the craving would mean instant death and are consequently usually able to resist it. But [illegible] During the time I have been here three of our best and steadiest workmen have committed suicide in this strange manner impelled thereto apparently by no cause save this mysterious horrible longing. I myself have felt this same strange lust when I have been long exposed to the cyanide fumes and have had to leave the works for a time in consequence. So well is this curious fact recognized that there are always two men at work together in this branch of our business and a [illegible] which [illegible] you may know is the antidote to the poison, is kept constantly at hand

Apart from this terrible infatuation, which may be likened to the desire experienced by many people when standing on the brink of a precipice to throw themselves down, the manufacture of potassium cyanide is not particularly dangerous. Neither is it unhealthy. In fact, it is asserted that men have gone into the cyanide house ill and debilitated and in a short time have been restored to robust health

The same cannot however be said of corrosive sublimate. This frightful poison in common with almost all the mercurial preparations, is exceedingly treacherous and prolonged exposure to the fumes is often attended by very dangerous consequences

To persons unaccustomed to the proximity even a comparatively short sojourn in that part of the works devoted to its manufacture sometimes gives rise to various unpleasant symptoms as the writer can testify. In my case, [illegible] exposure to the fumes sufficed to induce profuse running at the eyes, nose and mouth, accompanied by a constant desire to expectorate, and followed by shivering nausea and headache. The room in which this particular poison is prepared, with its vast collection of strangely shaped stills and its maze of pipes and retorts resembles an alchemist's laboratory

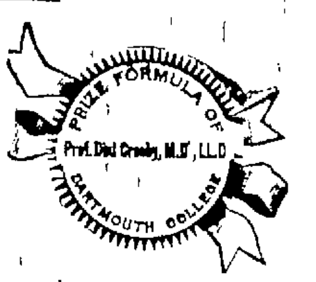

Of course, not all the products of this weird factory are poisonous. Neither are all the smells nauseous, nor all the sights uncanny. In one department for instance my nostrils are saluted with an exceedingly sweet savour, reminding me of peardrops sweet beloved of my youth. It is acetate of amyl, the drug used to give to the confection in question its peculiar flavor. And her small chamber from which emanates a strong odor of camphor, is a veritable fairy place of pure white crystals. Facsimiles of palms, ferns, and masses of tropical vegetation droop in graceful festoons from the roof and completely cover the walls. A reproduction of the interior of this wondrous chamber on the stage of Drury Lane would be sufficient to assure the success of next year's pantomime. Of course, the flowers and ferns are composed of neither ice nor snow, but pure white camphor crystals

Some of the substances are so exceedingly volatile that during the process of manufacture they must never be permitted to come in contact with the outside air. A typical case is that of ether which is passed from still to still and from retort to retort by means of long copper pipes, until at last in emerges the finished article of commerce. It produces when swallowed, an almost immediate exhilaration of spirits followed by unsteadiness of gait, thickness of utterance, confusion of ideas—in fact, all the typical symptoms of ordinary intoxication. The effect passes away quickly, however so that an ether drinker can get drunk three or four times an hour

My last visit before leaving the works was to the testing-room, where, surrounded by hundreds of samples of the deadliest poisons known to science, sat a tall, slender and pretty young girl. Ranged in front of her was a collection of tubes of various shapes and sizes, thermometers graduated to the one-hundredth part of a degree centigrade, and scales so delicately posed that an eyelash laid upon one of the balances deflected the indicator nearly half an inch. By the aid of these and other strange and beautiful pieces of apparatus she was enabled to record and exact strength of the various products of the factory.

Cured by Puritana

More Voluntary Testimony.

Strong men and frail women depend upon their stomachs for life from day to day

When they are weary and weak—

When they suffer—

When they are unfitted for work or enjoyment—

When they think life is hopeless—

Then Puritana can save them.

Why?

Because it has saved others.

Puritana does not fail

Its marvellous success is built on merit.

Here are a few specimen cures.

Thousands of the same sort could be given

Mr Luther P Shattuck is a shoemaker and lives in Rowley Mass. For years Mr Shattuck has been troubled with derangement of the stomach. He tried a number of remedies, but derived no benefit from them until he used Puritana. He says

"For years I have had trouble with my stomach. I was unable to eat anything without it causing me great distress. I would have severe pains across my chest and in my bowels. In the morning there would be belching of wind and after my day's work at night I would be troubled with sourness of the stomach, which was so bad sometimes I would be obliged to go to bed without eating a mouthful. My weight was also gradually wasting away and my fellow workmen thought I was going into Consumption and said I could not live long in the condition I was, and indeed I do not believe I could. Oftentimes after I had managed to eat a scanty meal, I would vomit up everything I had eaten. Last fall a friend urged me to try Puritana. I began to use it and before the first bottle was gone I knew the medicine was helping me. I kept on using it, and I can honestly say that Puritana cured me. I can now eat three meals a day without any distress. I have no belching of wind in the morning or sourness of the stomach at night. I think Puritana a grand medicine, and shall always praise it." (Signed)

LUTHER P SHATTUCK

Mrs. T Ridge of Westville, Conn., gives her own interesting experience. She writes as follows

The Puritana Compound Co

Dear Sirs —

A motive of pure gratitude prompts me to write these lines regarding your valuable medicine. I have been sick a number of years. I was so weak that I could not walk nor do my housework. I had a tired feeling all the time, was very despondent. The food I ate did not seem to do me much good. I was dizzy could not sleep. I have taken various medicines but they did not benefit me but a little. They gave temporary relief until the effects of the medicine wore off. I read about Puritana, and thought that I would try it and see if it would help me. I am glad to state that Puritana has overcome all these obstacles for that tired feeling is gone. I sleep good, it has given me an appetite, my head feels better than it has in years and I am better in every way. I can work all day and do not have that tired feeling. I take pleasure in recommending Puritana to all that are sick."

The municipal officers of the town of Waldo have petitioned the railroad commissioners for a hearing on a road to cross at grade the tracks of the Maine Central. The date of hearing will be later announced

Just which is the nice out of a body of water when none can be found in it or when one can get about among the dissolving sheets in a boat? This is an important question to those who wish to catch the first fish in those lakes and ponds where winter fishing through the ice is prohibited by law

A Caribou man had never seen the need of attending school until last fall he lost his left hand in a saw mill. Then it became apparent that if he were to continue to support his family it might be helpful to have a little education. With commendable pluck he attended school all winter and closely applied himself to his studies making good progress. Possibly some indolent boy who shirks his studies will read of this Caribou man and his pluck

One of the promising young horses in Belfast is owned by Horace Smalley. The colt is a four year-old pacing mare by Westbrook he by Elmbrook, dam a Kentucky mare. This colt in question is roan in color, stands 15 2 weighs 850 and is high headed and of good style. While never in a race this colt is a natural trotter and makes it hot for the fast ones down the road and easily shows a 40 clip. This colt will be started next season and is well thought of by prominent horsemen and in particular by W M Preston the well known driver

Eastport is well pleased with that feature of the recently issued government report on the preservation of the fisheries which expresses the opinion that there is no need of alarm concerning the future supply of young herring which is so vital to the continuance of her canning industry. The opinion is also expressed that the winter herring in the catching and marketing of which there was such a profitable business a few years ago are likely to return again. It appears that there have been similar periodical disappearance of the same fish on portions of the coast of Europe

There are moments in the life of even the modest conservative Maine drummer when he does not regret the acquisition of a complete vocabulary of expletives. An instance of this kind occurred down East the other day. The drummer was in the upper part of the county and wanted to reach another town that night so telegraphed the hotel keeper in the latter place early in the day to send a team to the station for him. When he reached the station at eight much to his surprise and disappointment no team was there so he started to walk to the village which was quite a little distance off. No sooner had he started than the station agent said to him, "Are you going to the village?" "Yes." "Then I wish you would take a despatch up to the hotel." It was the despatch ordering the team

Through the kindness of Representative A. W. Knowlton, of Newburg, the Kennebec Journal has had an opportunity to examine an old House Register of the year 1819. It is certainly a most interesting document. Samuel Belcher was then speaker of the House, and among the list of members are many names that have since become well known in the life of the State. Mr Knowlton's father Jabez Knowlton, represented the town of Newburg at that session and boarded at the old Mansion House, which, it is evident from the distinguished gentlemen who made it their legislative home, was then one of the leading hotels in our city. Another name which appears in the list of members of that Legislature is that of Joseph Kinsman, of Cornville, the grandfather of C C Kinsman, who represented the same town in the House of Representatives the past winter. So far as we can ascertain from a casual examination of this document Mr. Kinsman and Mr. Knowlton were the only descendants of members of the House of 1819, who did service in the House of 1897

I is expected that work will commence early next month on the erection of the new summer hotel at Shackford's Head, one mile from Eastport. The company has been organized under the laws of the State of Maine with a capital of $50,000. G. A. Schellenger, 128 Broadway, New York, has been selected as the architect. He is ably assisted by Richard H Stearns, Hotel Gerard, New York City, who is a thoroughly practical hotel manager of vast experience in seashore resorts and city hotels, notably Hotel Majestic, New York, and others. Mr Stearns has agreed to take a ten-year lease of the new hotel and pay a rental thereof equal to 6 per cent. on the entire cost of the building and furnishings, and keep the same in repair during this period. He has also subscribed for 10 per cent of the capital stock.

Mr Sim Conrawd, another of Vanceboro's lumbermen, will take his teams out from the place of his operations the present week. He lumbered this year altogether in Canada and has done a good winter's work

Mr Samuel McAlroy of Vanceboro, who handled the culinary department of one of Mr C F Keefe's camps the past winter, is home. He had the misfortune of losing one of his arms at the shoulder by the accidental discharge of a gun some years since, but nevertheless he is a first class cook. With only one hand he can do the cooking for a camp of thirty men, also cutting the wood used in the camp during the winter

After two weeks of vacation the Vanceboro town schools resumed their work which will continue until the last of next June. Mr [illegible] Sewey has been appointed by the school committee as superintendent for another year, which is a good choice, as he understands school work, having been a teacher at one time himself

Mr John McDonald of Vanceboro, will in a few days go to Boston where he will find employment. He has been out of work here for some time. All wish him success

Mr H Kellogg, merchant, Dr Taylor and Winthrop Robinson went up the lake last week. They had a fine trip and visited Mr Sim Conrawd's camps while away. Mr William McDonald went with them as guide. He is well acquainted with the shores of the lakes in this vicinity, nor can he be very easily lost in the woods

There was a mistake in the Vanceboro report of the town meeting last week inasmuch as Mr Joseph Suece is one of the school committee, and not Mr George W Hales as reported. Mr Hales is a constable

Last Wednesday evening as Mr T H McDonald was sitting in prayer meeting he felt some pain in one thumb and thinking it was caused by the pressure of a splinter in the flesh had some one try to find the foreign substance as soon as he returned home. No splinter was found, however and the pain continuing to increase in severity a physician was summoned, who pronounced it a case of senile gangrene and while there may be a chance of recovery, still the chances are exceeding small on account of old age and also from the fact that for years Mr. McDonald has been in very feeble health. The family has the sympathy of the entire community in their great trouble. THREE HAPPY WOMEN.

Each Relieved of Periodic Pain and Backache. A Trio of Fervent Letters.

Before using Lydia E Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, my health was gradually being undermined. I suffered untold agony from painful menstruation, backache pain on top of my head and ovarian trouble. I concluded to try Mrs. Pinkham's Compound and found that it was all any woman needs who suffers with painful monthly periods. It entirely cured me. MRS GEORGIE WASS 923 Bank St. Cincinnati O.

For years I had suffered with painful menstruation every month. At the beginning of menstruation it was impossible for me to stand up for more than five minutes I felt so miserable. One day a little book of Mrs. Pinkham's was thrown into my house and I sat right down and read it. I then got some of Lydia E Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills. I can heartily say that to-day, I feel like a new woman, my monthly suffering is a thing of the past. I shall always praise the Vegetable Compound for what it has done for me. MRS MARGARET ANDERSON, 308 Lisbon St, Lewiston, Me.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has cured me of painful menstruation and backache. The pain in my back was dreadful, and the agony I suffered during menstruation nearly drove me wild. [illegible] all over, thanks to Mrs. Pinkham's medicine and advice.—MRS [illegible] [illegible]

ENGLAND VS AMERICA.

The Extent of the Coffee Habit

When one notices the difference in the average people of England and America regarding their diet and digestive abilities, some natural inquiries come up What does the Englishman eat that gives him such good digestion, and what is the reason for so much dyspepsia among Americans?

Rudyard Kipling makes out a "pie belt" through New England, and says its pathway is strewn with dyspeptics The American s love for lard loaded pastry is probably the cause of some trouble, but the apparently harmless coffee is without doubt the father of more stomach troubles in America than any other item of food or drink Great Britain consumes about 30 000 000 pounds of coffee annually while America disposes of something like 330,000 000, nearly or quite eleven times as much

Analytical chemistry discovers the same poisonous alkaloids in coffee as are found in strychnine, morphine tobacco and whisky

These slight poisons taken daily, accumulate until the effect on the nerves and stomach is pitiable with some people (who are peculiarly susceptible to poisons), the doses are continued from day to day without knowledge of what is so surely destroying the power of nerves and stomach

It is a trial to give up coffee, but a new beverage has made its appearance on the market which is so like Java coffee in its deep seal brown color and assuming the rich golden brown of thick Mocha when cream is added, that lovers of coffee who are denied its use, because of the effect, can adopt this new food drink freely The change in taste is so slight that many do not discover that any change has been made The new product is called Postum and it is asserted by the manufacturers, the Postum Cereal Co, Limited, Battle Creek, Mich, that it consists wholly and solely of wheat and other cereals, carefully cooked and roasted in different ways When the parts are mixed or blended a perfect breakfast beverage a true health coffee results which contains the nourishing and healthful properties of the grains intended by nature for man s subsistence

It is worthy the trial of anyone who has trouble with coffee or who desires to regulate their habits with due regard to health and longevity

There is but one genuine original Postum Cereal coffee with a multitude of imitations offered as "just as good

Judging from the weak condition of the ice it is thought that the Penobscot river may be open to navigation to-day. During the past two days the ice has weakened very rapidly The river was open yesterday up to a point about opposite South Brewer From High Head to the ferryway, the river was open in several places. Above the ferryway and to the Bangor toll bridge the river was open A number of vessels are waiting at Bucksport and Fort Point to come to Bangor They are loaded with coal and grain and there are several light vessels that will come and wait for cargoes. The steamer Penobscot may be expected to come to Bangor to-day if the river is open

AMUSEMENTS

'Slaves of Gold'

This evening "The Slaves of Gold" will be presented at the Opera House The same scenic and mechanical effects which characterized the production at three prominent New York theatres will be utilized in the presentation of this successful melodrama here The identical cast will likewise be employed, and therefore it is reasonable to calculate on a pleasing entertainment Several sensational features add to its attractiveness, for instance, in the second act the heroine (impersonated by Miss Katherine Hunt) in order to warn her father (a role played by Mr Harold Reeves many hundred times) of a plot to explode the mines, smashes a dozen or more panes of glass and leaps from a second story window to the limb of an apple tree

The Stoddard Lecture

Mr John L Stoddard will appear at the Opera House on Tuesday evening, April 13th, and for that night only, when he will deliver the most famous of the Stoddard lectures, that on the Yellowstone Park, with its unparalleled illustration already delivered before enormous audiences in the principal cities For the scale of prices and opening sale of seats see our advertising columns

The Bangor Minstrels

This morning the Opera House box office will be open for the sale of seats for next Friday evening's performance by the Bangor Minstrels, Tickets bought in advance from members of the company should be presented promptly for exchange for coupon tickets

FATAL ACCIDENT

At Veazie On the Afternoon of Tuesday.

Reed Smith, Jr., Shot by Wyatt Weed in the Head.

About 3 o clock on Tuesday afternoon Reed Smith, Jr, a boy about thirteen years of age and son of Mr Reed Smith of Veazie, was shot and killed by Wyatt Weed, seventeen years of age and son of Mr. James Weed of the same town

According to the story told by the Weed boy, he and the Smith boy went to a place near the river bank, about an eighth of a mile from their homes, to fire at a target, Weed taking a Winchester rifle along Weed took aim at the target and pulled the trigger. Just as he did so the Smith boy, who was very near but in front of him, suddenly raised his head to see where the bullet would strike

He was right in line with the rifle and the bullet struck Smith in the forehead, going through his head. Smith fell to ground and Weed was horrified to find that he had shot his companion He hastened to his side but the Smith boy was beyond all help and lived only about a minute after being shot

Weed took the Smith boy's body upon his shoulders and carried it across the field to his home The parents of the Smith boy were then notified of the sad occurrence and they took charge of the remains The Smith family reside near the B O & O railway waiting room and the Weed family a few houses beyond It is a sad case and both families will have the sympathy of many friends

As nearly as can be learned the two boys were the best of friends and it would seem that the fatality was purely accidental and due to carelessness on the part of one or both of them

Fire Inquest

At Littlefield there is being held an inquest at the selectmen s office over the recent fire at the Hathorn homestead on the corner of Park and Hathorn streets On the night of March 17, at 11 o clock the residence owned and occupied for some years by George Hathorn deceased, but of late practically unoccupied was found to be on fire

The firemen had to fight hard to confine the fire to the upper section of the house For three hours five streams of water were directed upon the structure and for five hours three streams were steadily played before the fire was considered to be out. Afterwards rumors began to be heard that all was not right about the fire

Finally the selectmen called upon Deputy Sheriff Haskell for an inquest which was called under the law passed in 1893 providing for such cases Mr Haskell appointed Gordon Dobson, Prof O H Drake and Frank D Jenkins, a jury to hear the evidence and the town engaged E N Merrill Esq, of Skowhegan, as its attorney

At 11 o'clock Monday the jury and several citizens of the town, Detective Ira M True Deputy Sheriff Haskell one of the selectmen and E N Merrill, Esq, repaired to the damaged building and thoroughly examined it

Later testimony was taken and the hearing was also continued to Tuesday Considerable interest is being taken in the matter in that town

Base Ball Notes

Hank Simon of last year s Bangors has signed with Hartford The Hartford team is to be congratulated It has received a prize

The Portlands will play at Taunton April 23 and 24 at the Cuban X Giants April 29 and 30

Sockalexis made three hits, one a double in his first game Saturday Papalau pitched four innings, and with poor support yet only five hits were made off him

President Young computes the cost of travelling in the national league for players alone at $32 880 for the season The salaries aver ge $3,000 a club per season He says "Interest in base ball is constantly increasing I know that, because I receive more letters all the time from people all over the country asking questions about base ball matters I answer every letter that comes to me whoever writes The school boy receives just as much consideration as the man, because I want the schoolboy to grow up with an interest in base ball

The earned run rule is the most inconsistent feature in the scoring statutes and is subject to numerous interpretations A stolen base, for example is no factor in an earned run under the new ruling, yet the steal is an effort on the part of the base runner, and a weakness of the pitcher and catcher Thus the new earned run amendment is solely in the interest of the pitcher and antagonistic to the base runner —Syracuse Standard

The Philadelphia Inquirer's correspondent in the South says of Geier "Geier seems a bunch of nerves and goes after everything He throws almost precisely like Cross His speed is tremendous and his balls go straight as a die to first Geier covers second in the most approved fashion, is quick to see a play and take advantage of it When it comes right down to business, with a thorough season, he should stand up well among League short stops."

On Trial

Annie Haney vs The Bangor, Orono & Oldtown Railway Company.

In this action plaintiff sues to recover for injuries which she alleges were received by her while riding on a car of the defendant corporation, by the negligence of defendant and she alleges that on April 20th, 1896, she was riding on a car of the defendant corporation from Oldtown to Bangor, that when near the Mount Hope Cemetery the car jumped the track of the said Railway Company and she was thrown with great violence upon the side of said car and badly injured, that she was bruised upon her body, and her left arm was badly bruised, her ankle and foot were badly strained and bruised, and her nervous system shocked, and she says that the injuries received by her were caused wholly by the fault and negligence of the defendant corporation and that she was then and there in the exercise of due care, and for the injuries then and there so received by the negligence of defendant corporation, he claims damages in the sum of $2000 00

The defence is general denial of liability. The defendant corporation says first that the injuries claimed to have been received by the plaintiff as alleged in the writ were never received and that the plaintiff was not injured and second in denying its liability says that a link, a portion of the truck frame on the forward end of the car placed upon the frame to add to its strength, when the car had reached the point near Mount Hope cemetery, broke, and the end dropping down striking the earth and jacking the car up and throwing it off the rails that the accident occurred through no fault of the company, its servants or agents and, is such an accident and occurred in such a way, that the company is not liable for injuries received thereby

P H Gillin for plaintiff
Appleton & Chaplin for defendant.

THE BOOTY FOUND.

Edward Bannon Had the Watches Concealed Upon His Person.

Edward Bannon of Lynn Mass, and Dennis Brennan of Lewiston, were before the Municipal Court yesterday on the charge of drunkenness and larceny of watches at Allen s second hand shop on Broad street Each was fined $3 and costs for drunkenness and being unable to pay they were committed to jail On the larceny case they were continued for sentence until after the expiration of their sentence for inebriation

When they were searched by the police Monday night after their arrest the only incriminating article found was a watch chain belonging to Mr Allen, which was in Bannon's pocket Yesterday morning they were given another search which resulted in the discovery of the watches stolen from Mr. Allen's shop window, in the lining of Bannon's trousers During the afternoon of Monday Bannon offered to sell one of the watches to a Bangor man for $1 20

County Commissioners

The County Commissioners began a regular session at the Court House on Tuesday morning

The commissioners find that the number of drunks brought before the Bangor Municipal Court during the quarter ending March 31 was 72 The number for the same period last year was very much larger

During the quarter ending December 31 of last year, the number of Bangor drunks was 119, and was 124 for a similar period the year before

Today the commissioners will probably consider the sheriff's board bill for the care of prisoners, which is said to be lower than for many quarters The commissioners may adjourn this afternoon, but if not probably on Thursday

THE CHICAGO ELECTION.

Young Carter Harrison Elected by Big Majority.

Will Be the First Political Office the Son of His Father Has Ever Held.

Republicans Carried St Louis and Topeka—Other Municipal Elections.

Chicago, April 6 The mayoralty election resulted in a decisive victory for the Democratic party, its candidate, Carter Harrison, having more votes than all the other candidates combined.

At midnight the available figures give, Sears (Rep) 60 000 Harrison (Dem) 148 000 Harlan (Ind) 72,000, Hesing (Ind) 18 000

Of the 34 aldermen the returns point to the election of 20 Democrats, 4 Republicans and 4 Independents

It was apparent at midnight that Harrison had beaten Sears, the regular Republican candidate by from 87,000 to 90 000 votes

At the last mayoralty election Swift's vote was 143 107, against 102 2 1 for Wenter (Dem) In the Presidential election, McKinley had 200,742 against 144-730 for Bryan

The feature of the election was the strength shown by Harlan He ran second to Harrison and although an independent with no organization behind him, secured more votes than the regular Republican candidate, Judge Nathaniel Sears One thing that helped Harlan greatly was that Sears was looked upon as being the nominee of the Republican machine which has grown unpopular in the ranks of the local Republican party

Harlan secured a heavy vote from men who would have voted for the Republican nominee had it not been that they wished to express their opinion of the machine He drew some votes from the Democratic party, but not many, the main part of his strength coming from the Republican voters The vote for Hesing was largely from the Germans and came from both parties He was the nominee of the gold Democrats although he went before the people on a business men's platform

The campaign was fought for the most part on strictly local issues, although the Democrats had a silver plank in their platform

Carter H Harrison is the son and namesake of the late Mayor Harrison who was assassinated during the closing days of the World's Fair Mr Harrison is 37 years of age and has never before held a political office

At Quincy the entire Democratic ticket was elected

Loren F Wheeler Rep) was elected mayor of Springfield by 250 majority

Republicans Carry St Louis

St Louis, April The Republicans carried the city today, the mayoralty candidate Henry Ziegenheim, being elected

Incomplete returns from the State show Democratic victories The silver question has entered largely into the contests

All On Way

Little Rock, Ark, April 6 Municipal elections were held in all Arkansas towns today There was no opposition to the Democratic ticket

Denver Re-Elects Silver Republican

Denver, Col, April 6 The mayoralty contest today was a victory for the present incumbent, Thomas McMurray, a silver Republican, who was running on an independent ticket against the Democratic and straight Republican

Topeka Republican

Topeka, Kan, April 6 Mayor Fellows (Rep) was re-elected by 1000 majority, as was the entire Republican ticket

Democrats Again

Jefferson City, Mo, April 6 The Democrats elected the mayor here today

Will Build a School House

Sabattus, Me, April 6 The town of Webster voted today to build a $6 000 school house at this village

Silver Lake's Famous Serpent

Faxon was happiest when doing something to relieve the distress of another, and he was, moreover, greatly given to practical joking These two characteristics in him produced a hoax once that became famous at the time and it was near about the same time that he caused Blondin to walk across Niagara

Faxon had a friend who went to Silver Lake, a beautiful body of water a few miles south of Buffalo and Rochester, in what was then a wild and picturesque country, where he built a superb hotel, hoping to make the place a popular resort His man's fortune was expended in building and outfitting the hotel, but as people did not resort to the place to any considerable numbers it failed of becoming much of a resort, and the man was about to be finally ruined Faxon went to the place for a few days' relaxation and, seeing the condition of affairs invented a scheme whereby his friend could be saved

At Buffalo lived a young German tinsmith of an ingenious turn of mind To him Faxon went, and under Faxon's direction an immense tin snake was secretely made and so contrived that by the use of wires it would, under proper arrangements, go into serpentine writhings and open and shut its enormous mouth This contraption was quietly taken to Silver Lake, and so fixed in the water—which was very deep—that by wires worked from the cellar of the hotel it would show its length on the surface, snap its terrible mouth and dive down again

The snake being arranged in working order Faxon went back to Buffalo, and in his paper printed, under great "scare heads" the story of the discovery of an enormous snake in Silver Lake People visited the place by hundreds and then by thousands The hotel and its barns and outbuildings of all kinds were filled with guests, and many people went there and camped on the shores of the lake, his snakeship coming to the surface at satisfactory intervals and doing his share of the work So the fame of the Silver Lake snake went abroad

There came a body of savants of the school of Europe to see the famous terror, and they saw it and pondered over it —but at a most respectful distance

Finally one day the wire broke, the snake floated to the surface and turned its white belly toward the sky, just like any other snake and the great hoax was exploded But Faxon's friend had saved his fortune and added to it, and Silver Lake became quite a resort after all
